

The following text is about the account payable process. It starts with sending to the vendor accounting department.

When sending to the vendor accounting department is completed, creating a receiving report should be done.

When creating a receiving report is completed, you need to report errors to relevant team member.

Once reporting errors to relevant team member occurs, entering the invoice into the accounts payable account needs to be done.

The process is now completed.