

The following description is about the account payable process. It begins when you send to the receiving department.

After sending to the receiving department, you need to create a receiving report.

When creating a receiving report is completed, one or more of the following paths should be executed: reporting errors to relevant team member, gathering the vendors invoice.

Afterwards, you need to check dates to avoid penalty charges.

The process is now completed.