

The following text is about the account payable process. It starts with filing a copy for internal records.

Once filing a copy for internal records occurs, you need to create a receiving report.

When creating a receiving report is completed, one or more of the following paths should be executed: gathering the receiving report, confirming all documents have been amended, gathering the vendors invoice.

Once confirming all documents have been amended occurs, reporting errors to relevant team member needs to be done.

Then, one or more of the following paths should be executed: scheduling the payment, checking dates to avoid penalty charges.

The process is now completed.
