

The following description is about the payable billing process and begins when you send to the recipient department.

Once the sending occurs to the receiving department, a receiving report must be generated.

Once creating a receiving report occurs, the doubling needs to a three-way match.

When doubling check a three-way match is completed, the invoice should be entered into the account payable.

The process is now completed.