

The following text is about the process of the account payable and starts with the sending to the vendor accounting department.

When sending to the vendor accounting department is completed, a receipt report should be made.

When a receiving report is finished, you have to report errors to the relevant team member.

Once the team member reports an error, the invoice has to be filed into the Account payable.

The process is now completed.