

The following description is about the accounts payable process, which begins when you file a copy of the internal records.

When a copy of a receipt is completed for internal records, you need to create a receiving report.

After creating a Receiving Report, you must confirm that all documents have been amended.

After confirming all documents have been amended, you must store invoice file in paid file.

The process is now concluded.