

The following description is about the process of the account payable, which starts with sending to the receiving department.

After sending to the receiving department, a receiving report must be created.

After creating a receiving report, the vendors invoice should be done.

After gathering vendor invoice, one or more of the following paths should be executed: scheduling the payment, storing in the prepaid invoice file.

The process is now completed.