

The following description is about the account payable process, which starts with the report sent to the senior accountant in your department.

Once sent to the senior accountant in your department, you need to create a receiving report.

When a receiving report is created, it needs to report error to the relevant team member.

When reporting errors is completed to a relevant team member, you need to check dates to avoid penalty charges.

The process is now complete.