

The following text is about the account payable process. It starts with filing a copy for internal records.
When a copy for internal records is completed, creating a receiving report needs to be done.
After creating a receipt report, you need to confirm that all documents have been amended.
When all documents have been amended, you must arrange the payment.
The process is now complete.