

The following text is about the Account payable process that begins when you send an email to the receiving department.

When sending is completed to the receiving department, you need to create a receipt report.

After creating a receiving report, double check should be completed a three-way match

Once a double check occurs, a three-way match must be created for the documents.

The process is now completed.