

The following description is about the process of Account payable, which starts with a copy of a workbook for internal records.

After filing a copy for internal documents, a receiving report should be created.

After a receiving report is created, the next tasks should be to collect the receiving report and doubling check a three-way match, they should be done in parallel.

Once all pre-tasks are completed then the storing of the paid invoice file needs to be done.

The process is now completed.
