

The text below is about the account payable process, which begins with the transmission to the vendor accounting department.

Once your sending to the vendor accounting department occurs, you need to create a receipt report.

After creating a receiving report, reports should be done to the correct team member.

When the reporting of errors is completed to the relevant team member, you need to create a voucher for the documents.

The process is now finished.