

The text below is about the billing process that starts when you send to the recipient department.

Once sending to the receiving department occurs, creating a receiving report should be done.

Once a receiving report has been created the next task should double check a three-way match and gather the receiving report, they should be done in parallel.

Once all pre-tasks are completed, the payment schedule - need to be done.

The process is now finished.